Commodore

Happy New Year to all.

I sincerely hope that each of you and your loved ones have enjoyed the holiday season and that Santa brought you neat boat stuff! Several members have stepped up to run for offices this year and we have a new Publicity Director, John (RJ) Moldovan. Please forward all newsletter articles and correspondence to him. Thanks RJ!!

I want to thank all of those who volunteered to help with all the events last year. It goes without saying that these events would not happen without the volunteer help and it is very much appreciated!!

If you are like me, Edgewater Marina Boat Club plays a significant part of our social and boating activities and will certainly require some of our time and attention if we are to see improvements this year.

Fleet Captain

Not much to report here. I just want to say Happy New Year everybody.

There is one thing that I want to share with y'all. Imagine yourself on a calm warm day, light breeze brushing against your forehead, sitting at the helm of a brand new boat, and all this in the middle of the winter. Now that I think about it, it's almost like a sensory overload. Last November, Thanksgiving Day, I was sailing the North Pacific. That's right, the Big One. I was visiting my sister in Los Angeles, and she was kind enough to rent a sailboat and go cruising for a couple of hours. It was a Jeanneau Sun Odyssey 35, brand new. Very nice. What..? You don't believe me.

Ha!.. I told ya... Look at me. So happy!

I am going to post a bunch of pictures, especially the ones with the Sea Lions. Apparently that's the main attraction around there. There is a buoy about 2 miles north of Marina del Rey, our home port, where a bunch of Sea Lions claim as their home. Anyways, enough of that. It won't be long now before our boats are going back in the water.

And just to remind everyone, here is our web site; <http://www.embc-cleve.com/>. Check it out. I am adding new stuff all the time and trying to keep it up to date as far as events go. Last thing I added is a bunch of pictures from our events and also a forum where you can post all kinds of stuff. I am the only one using it, but hopefully one day there will be other posts than mine. If you have any suggestions or just want to add anything just email me. Thank you.

'Till next time matees...

HAPPY NEW YEAR

Hope that this year will be a good one for all.

The first event of the year will be our chili cook off. As always it will cost those tasting 3 dollars and a family 10 dollars.(4 or more will save you money) More to come on this event and the date.

This year our Commadore's Ball will be more expensive because of losing the Highland Party Center. It will be at Brennan's Party Center. Looks like it will cost everyone 40 dollars. So get out the high fashion and lets party!! I had people checking into other places, but some were far. Thank you Lou, for your help,in getting us some break on price. More will follow in Feb. newsletter.

I look forward to seeing all at the meeting for elections.

Hope to see more of you at all the events of the new year.

"Merry Christmas, Uncle." said Bob Cratchit as he....

Ahh, the holidays. Bellies are full and pockets are empty. Christmas is definitely my favorite holiday. Actually, I am speaking of both Christmas celebrations. This includes the one in July that we have had the last couple of years at the marina. I am steadily working on my belly size to catch up to Santa. And I am bulking up for winter.

There are no horror stories about ice storms and power outages to pass on to you this year. I'm certain that you are relieved to hear that. Nothing exceptional, just a great holiday season. How can you beat being surrounded by family and friends? Dammit man, I love his time of year. There are other holidays throughout the year and they are all great. But this time of the year is different. As far as I am concerned the "Holiday Season" begins Thanksgiving week and runs through the middle of January. Wow, what a holiday! Loosen your belt, kick back and savor every moment of it.

MERRY CHRISTMAS AND HAPPY NEW YEAR, TO YOU AND YOUR'S.

And if that's not politically correct, get over it.

Can't remember what, where or when? There are a lot of helpers out there and here's one of them. It's called Planzo. This is an online calendar, with a slew of options. Your calendar can be public or private; you can upload photos to it. Each week you will be emailed a reminder of upcoming events for that week.

I have been using it for my start page (home page). It's a pretty handy tool and the best thing is that it is free! Click on the link and create your own useful calendar.

Wolf Moon - January 14th 2006. Amid the cold and deep snows of midwinter, the wolf packs howled hungrily outside Indian villages. Hence, the name for January's full Moon. Sometimes it was also referred to as the Old Moon or the Moon after Yule. Some called it the Full Snow Moon, but most tribes applied that name to the next Moon.

See ya at the January meeting,
