It's only a few months until the marina opens and our boats will settle back into the water. Your 2006 board has been hard at work with planning and developing this year's events and social calendar. But, we need your input, attendance and/or participation to make 2006 a great year. Start by attending a general meeting or should I say "the loco socio event". It's a really great feeling to mingle with all the people that show up for the meetings that you haven't seen in a while. Also, try your chance at the 50/50 drawing held at the meetings.

For those that dock their boats at Edgewater Marina, Jennifer will be sending the 2006 contracts out to all dock holders very soon. Good news...dock fees are unchanged from last year.

Ahoy Everyone,

Good times are right around the corner: fun, sun, and all those water things we enjoy doing. Hope everyone is faring well through this cold snap, all is well here, just a kink in the neck.

Missed the Chili Cook-off due to Vegas, and brings up the same reason we missed the bus trip. Hope everyone had a good time.

The Lakefront Planning Committee is having a meeting on the future plans of the U.S. Coast Guard Station at the mouth of the river. The meeting will be held at the Gordon Square Arcade, 6515 Detroit Ave. The meeting is going to be on Mar. 9, 2006 from 6 to 8 P.M. They are looking for public input, hopefully they may listen to the common folk.

Time to go for now, see you at the next meeting.

Yea, it's almost spring, our second most favorite season.

The March Full Moon is the Worm Moon -

As the temperature begins to warm and the ground begins to thaw, earthworm casts appear, heralding the return of the robins. The more northern tribes knew this Moon as the Full Crow Moon, when the cawing of crows signaled the end of winter; or the Full Crust Moon, because the snow cover becomes crusted from thawing by day and freezing at night. The Full Sap Moon, marking the time of tapping maple trees, is another variation. To the settlers, it was also known as the Lenten Moon, and was considered to be the last full Moon of winter.

This is just a quick note of thanks to all those who voted for my chili at the EMBC Chili Fest, "thanks a lot".

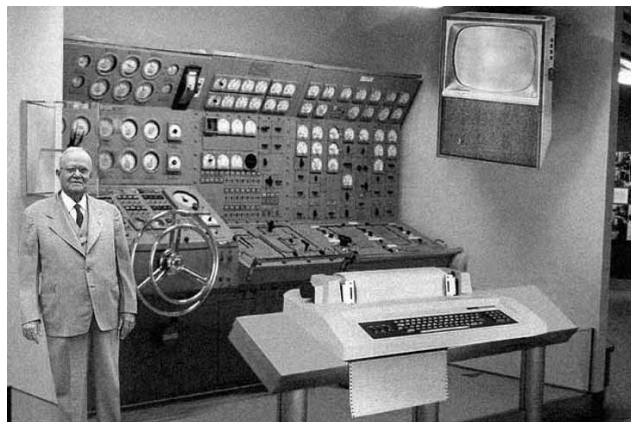

Here's a thought. Instead of throwing away those no longer functioning re-chargeable batteries, take them in. Here is a site that shows you where. Just type in your zip code and a list will pop-up. There are a lot of places in the Cleveland area. We even have a rather large list in our area. <http://www.rbcc.org/consumer/uslocate.html>

Many of us have digital cameras now and there are a multitude of choices for photo editors and organizers. Some of these are costly and difficult to use. Here is a freebie that does it all. This program will also allow you to add captions to your photos, and send them via email at just the right size. There is also a more bells and whistles program available for a price. Check out the free version. There's plenty there.

It's a good thing that the visionaries of 1954 were wrong about the personal computers that they predicted were coming. Can you picture this in your study or den? Do you think that is a flat screen monitor? What do you think the laptop model looks like?

Scientists from the RAND Corporation have created this model to illustrate how a "boom computer" could look like in the year 2000. However the needed technology will not be economically feasible for the average home. Also the scientists readily admit that the computer will require not yet invented technology to actually work, but 50 years from now scientific progress is expected to solve these problems. With teletype interface and the Fortran language, the computer will be easy to use.

See Ya,
Buck Wilke
