The nominating committee will begin soliciting candidates for the upcoming year. New candidates are always welcome. Please consider running for an officer position, trustee, or committee chairperson. If you are considering running for an office, please contact the incumbent for details about the position. This will increase the enjoyment of our club events and bring fresh ideas to the club. Nomination sign up sheets will be available at the next monthly meeting.

Reminder: During the winter months the EMBC monthly meetings will be held at The Zone Car in the CPPA Hall at 1303 W. 58th Street.

Vice Commodore

Well it's that time of the year.... Where has the summer gone?? Once again I would like to thank all who helped with the events over the summer. We had a great time at the tailgate party this past Sunday. The beef was great. (Wish I could say the same about the Browns!!!). We even had time to play a few games of Texas Holdum.

The monthly meeting will be this Wednesday
Oct 11, 2006 at the marina. Hope to see you all there..

Fleet News & Views

Fleet Captain

The season is coming to an end, and just like when the season started, it's time to grab a drink and wonder thru the boat yard in search of victims. That's right, those people that have work to do... It's great, especially when your boat is still in the water. "Kick'em while their down"... I always say.

I know my time is coming, though. October 21st is when you can get back at me. Stop on by to reminisce about this past season and look forward towards the next one.

'Till next time mates...

All I can say is WOW October,

This is an interesting site, what they have here are 3-D paper models. There is a rather large list of models that can be made. Everything is available from buildings to model cars. You just print them out and fold. This can be a good way of keeping those kids and grandkids busy.

A friend of mine sent this to me the other day, and I just had to pass it on. Believe me it is well worth reading.

“Carpe Diem”

Too many people put off something that brings them joy just because they haven't thought about it, don't have it on their schedule, didn't know it was coming or are too rigid to depart from their routine.

I got to thinking one day about all those people on the Titanic who passed up dessert at dinner that fateful night in an effort to cut back. From then on, I've tried to be a little more flexible.

How many women out there will eat at home because their husband didn't suggest going out to dinner until after something had been thawed? Does the word "refrigeration" mean nothing to you?

How often have your kids dropped in to talk and sat in silence while you watched 'Jeopardy' on television?

I cannot count the times I called my sister and said, "How about going to lunch in a half hour?" She would gas up and stammer, "I can't. I have clothes on the line. My hair is dirty. I wish I had known yesterday, I had a late breakfast, It looks like rain." And my personal favorite: "It's Monday." .She died a few years ago. We never did have lunch together.

Because we cram so much into their lives, we tend to schedule our headaches.. We live on a sparse diet of promises we make to ourselves when all the conditions are perfect!

We'll go back and visit the grandparents when we get Steve toilet-trained. We'll entertain when we replace the living-room carpet. We'll go on a second honeymoon when we get two more kids out of college.

Life has a way of accelerating as we get older. The days get shorter, and the list of promises to ourselves gets longer. One morning, we awaken, and all we have to show for our lives is a litany of "I'm going to," "I plan on," and "Someday, when things are settled down a bit."

When anyone calls my 'seize the moment' friend, she is open to adventure and available for trips. She keeps an open mind on new ideas. Her enthusiasm for life is contagious. You talk with her for five minutes, and you're ready to trade your bad feet for a pair of Roller blades and skip an elevator for a bungee cord.

My lips have not touched ice cream in 10 years. I love ice cream. It's just that I might as well apply it directly to my stomach with a spatula and eliminate the digestive process. The other day, I stopped the car and bought a triple-decker. If my car had hit an iceberg on the way home, I would have died happy.

Now...go on and have a nice day. Do something you WANT to.....not something on your SHOULD DO list. If you were going to die soon and had only one phone call you could make, who would you call and what would you say? And why are you waiting?

Make sure you read this to the end; you will understand why I sent this to you.

Have you ever watched kids playing on a merry go round or listened to the rain lapping on the ground? Ever followed a butterfly's erratic flight or gazed at the sun into the fading night? Do you run through each day on the fly? When you ask "How are you?" Do you hear the reply?

When the day is done, do you lie in your bed with the next hundred chores running through your head? Ever told your child, "We'll do it tomorrow." And in your haste, not see his sorrow? Ever lost touch? Let a good friendship die? Just call to say "Hi"?

When you worry and hurry through your day, it is like an unopened gift....Thrown away.... Life is not a race. Take it slower. Hear the music before the song is over.

It is National Friendship and FAMILY WEEK Show your friends how much you care. Send this to everyone you consider a FRIEND. If it comes back to you, then you'll know you have a circle of friends.

To those I have sent this to... I cherish our friendship and appreciate all you do.

"Life may not be the party we hoped for... but while we are here we might as well dance!"

Seize the day my friends,

Buck Wilke
